

Alice in Pastaland: A Math Adventure

Alice came upon a garden of giant flowers. She wondered if the flowers were really large or if she had somehow shrunk again. Hearing voices, Alice looked around and found a group of flowers arguing.

A foxglove flower said, "I'm the biggest and the best because I grow ten spaghetti tall!"

"But most of your flowers grow down low!" a daffodil scoffed. "I grow all my flowers seven spaghetti high!"

"Height doesn't matter," a tulip said. "My flowers grow bigger than yours."

"Well," said a pansy, "I grow twice as many flowers."
