

The Inner Light

"The Inner Light" is the 25th episode overall and the 25th episode of the fifth season of the American science fiction television series Star Trek: The Next Generation. It's been almost twenty years now since I first saw "The Inner Light," and I still think it's the best episode of any Star Trek series. And yet, The Inner Light from Star Trek: The Next Generation lives on; not just as one of the best episodes of Star Trek, but as one of the finest pieces of modern television. At the beginning of the episode, Captain Jean-Luc Picard is hit with a probe beam that transports him to an alien planet. An alien probe controls and disables Captain Picard, who wakes up as "Kamin," a resident of the planet Kataan. While the crew of the Enterprise tries to jar the probe, Picard's realization that he was the one it'll find.
